Commentary

Current Quarter

- For the quarter, the program returned +8.2% vs. the PCF Historical benchmark of +7.3% as public and private equity markets have continued to climb although have started showing higher volatility more recently. YTD, the portfolio is up +12.8%, ahead of the PCF Historical Benchmark at 12.6%.
- Clean Energy fell during the quarter, returning -2.9%. YTD, the ETF is down -16.4% pulling back further from its meaningful performance of last year as interest rate uncertainty, and speculative trading act as a drag. One year return is still a solid 89%.
- Real Assets were up +10.6% in Q2, bringing YTD performance up to +16.0%
- Fixed Income program was up +2.1% in Q2 and is slightly negative YTD as interest rates have steadily fallen since March.
- Lagged Private Equity valuations continue to contribute greatly to returns as strong marks increase asset values. The liquid portion of the portfolio (80.4%) was up +5.9% in Q2, in line with the liquid benchmark.

Tactical Themes

- Allocations continue to be close to target, staying aware of overall program risk as economies recover and markets react to forward looking growth expectations globally, and rising Covid cases as vaccination take up has slowed.
- Current positioning will focus on supporting target allocations with positioning shifting slightly towards non-U.S. markets as well as select real assets to manage risk and capture returns.
- Core fixed income and cash remain at or near targets, but allocations may again drift lower should equity markets again rally. Forward looking focus remains on risk management and continuing to maintain these allocations close to targets.
- New Private Equity commitments have begun again with one commitment made to date. Future commitments will be carefully considered as the year moves ahead and opportunities arise.
