

CHURCH FINANCIAL LEADERSHIP Coaching Program

As a part of the Lilly Endowment, Inc.'s mission to help pastoral leaders with their professional financial challenges, the Presbyterian Foundation received a grant to resource pastoral leaders and the congregations they serve in the areas of church financial literacy, leadership and management to promote vitality and excellence in ministry.

A financial leadership coaching program for pastors

The goal of the coaching program is to develop pastoral leaders who have a solid foundation in church financial literacy and appropriate skills in leadership and management so that their ministries flourish and their congregations create a culture that forms generous disciples who join in Christ's mission in their neighborhoods, communities and the world.

Program Benefits

- There is no cost to complete the program.
- This is a 12-month program.
- An experienced, trained personal coach will be assigned to you.
- The program offers a contextualized approach to church financial leadership.

During this 12-month program, they will work with you to accomplish the following:

1. Establish goals for your time together.
2. Face church finance and generosity challenges within your congregation.
3. Think through a plan to create a culture of generosity within your congregation.

"The opportunity to meet with a coach through this program has been an enriching experience. Our meetings provided a time when I was free to ask questions and receive experienced guidance, as well as great encouragement for ministry."
