“My seminary education has informed my eyes and heart to discern the contemporaneity of the biblical text and to prayerfully interpret my faith as a vocation of action in the world.”

“The Church has an opportunity to support the Theological Education Fund. It does not demand any particular amount of money. It does not demand any particular amount of time. All it asks for is that you find an opportunity to support the fund, in order that the fund may help find a way to support people. And one of those persons might be you!”

The Late Rev. Dr. James F. Reese
